Based at Lang College, the Gender Studies Program of The New School serves all undergraduate divisions. Students minoring in Gender Studies take six courses, distributed as set forth below. Courses are chosen in consultation with the Director of the Program, who will help students develop a plan of study when they declare the minor. A student may substitute a course from the Race and Ethnicity Program for one in the Gender track once, at any level from introductory to advanced. All of the courses that count toward the minor can be found in the Gender Studies Course Booklet issued each semester.

To ensure the Degree Works version of this worksheet reflects the same information, students should forward any approved exceptions of the following requirements to the Advising Office. Students must earn a grade of B or higher for a course to count toward the program. All questions should be directed to Chiara Bottici at genderstudiesminor@newschool.edu.

Three (3) Elective Courses (total 9-12 credits):
These courses may be taken in any division if they appear in the list of courses accepted as part of the Gender Studies Program. Two must be above the 2000 level. Students will be encouraged through the advising process to structure these three courses either by field or subject. In some subject areas, advanced students may use graduate courses or a related internship to fulfill the elective requirement. Students should consult the Gender Studies website bit.ly/LangGenS for the list of courses approved each semester.
